Common Alex pass it on!

Ooooh! I missed that goal!

How can you score when I, the great defender, am right here.

Don't mind Alex, he doesn't know he is playing with a future Messi

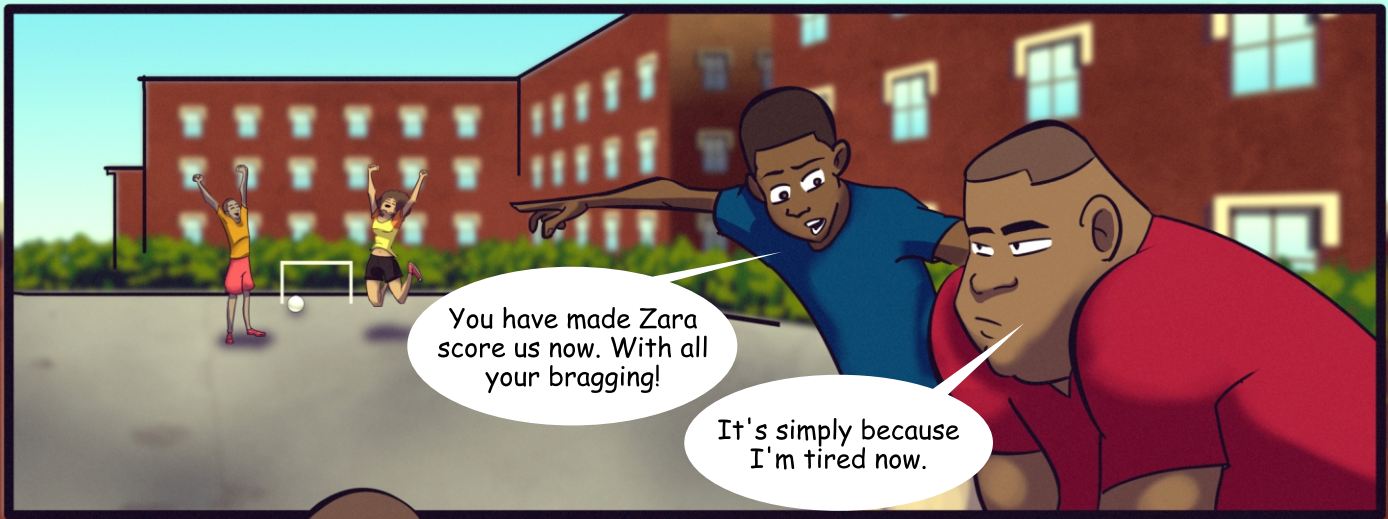

Future Messi my foot. A girl becoming Messi?

gooaaaaa!

Thats
how we roll!

You have made Zara score us now. With all your bragging!

It's simply because I'm tired now.

Let's meet same time tomorrow after school and I will show you who the real Messi is.

What are you doing Alobe?

After play, I need to wash my hands before I can touch anything else.

You and this your neatness ways again! You want to become Neat Perfect?

Alex please, I am not competing for prefect o. I wash my hands to protect myself against diseases.

That's what my mum told me and some health books I have read. Moreover, Ebola news is everywhere! Ebola virus is real and deadly and the best way to prevent one is to constantly wash your hands.

Spare me please. I am not interested in your Ebola story today. I just want to get home, eat, and take a nap.

It is not Ebola story o, it should be called Dr. Alobe's preventive measure on disease control.

You guys can call it whatever you like, but I will rather wash my dirty sport wear and school uniform, then take a clean bath before anything elseonce I get home.

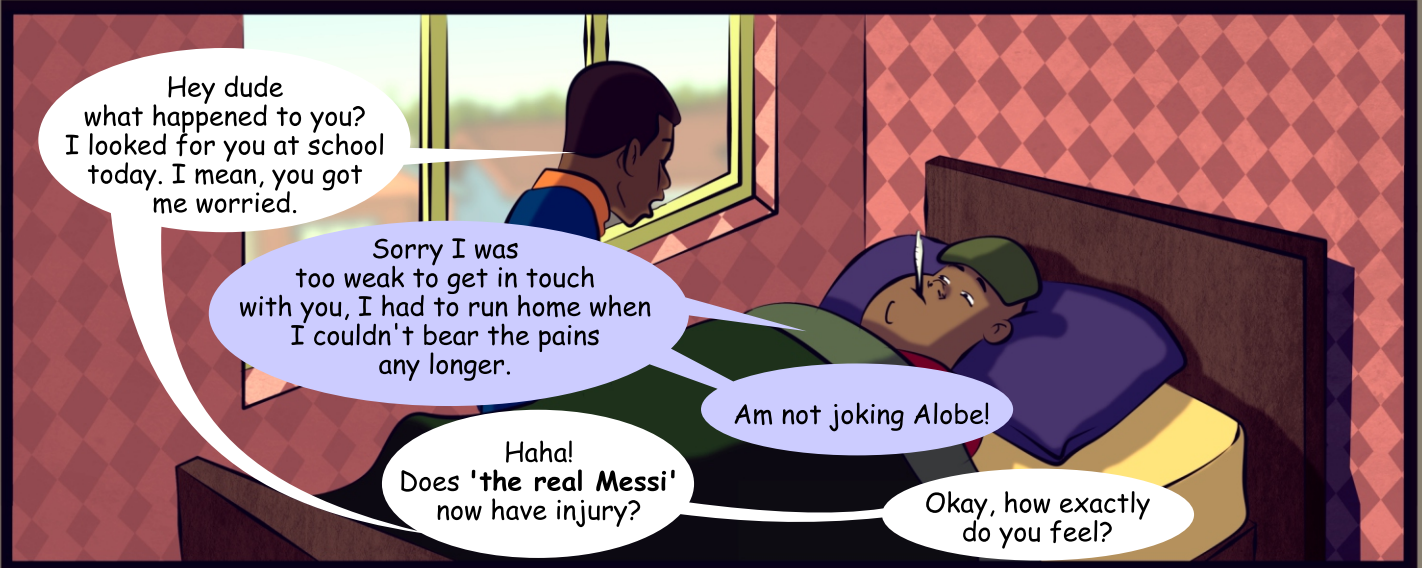

Hmmm!
Alobe might be right you know, because I recently came across "Something Alert" on my mum's phone but I was more interested in the game I want to play on the mobile phone to take note of the message.

Oh yeah! It is called Ebola Alert. It is on twitter, Face book and also has its own website. I have learnt a lot from these mediums and it's been very helpful you know.

Alex:
Okay, okay Dr. Alobe can we go home now please, my food would be getting cold by now.

The following day at Alex's House...

Hey dude what happened to you? I looked for you at school today. I mean, you got me worried.

Sorry I was too weak to get in touch with you, I had to run home when I couldn't bear the pains any longer.

Am not joking Alobe!

Haha! Does 'the real Messi' now have injury?

Okay, how exactly do you feel?

I feel feverish, body aches, sore throat; and I have been stooling.

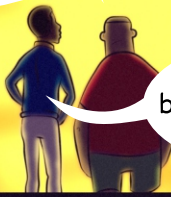

Don't tell me I have Ebola Virus!!

No Alex, it might not be. But I will suggest we take precautions by calling the Ebola Help Line 0800326524357

Do you know that I would not have believed Ebola virus disease actually exists if not for all the videos the Doctor showed me and the news he gave me to read?

Alobe: Ebola is real but I am glad you tested negative my friend.

HOSPITAL

Hand washing will not only protect you but also save the lives of your family members, school mates and friends.

Now I just have to take my drugs and be more conscious of my hygiene and neatness henceforth. In fact hand washing will be my priority.
